

Nutraceuticals

Product quality is critical in this sector, and our experience in the pharmaceutical and food industries means we can offer the guarantee and production standards of a specialist. These aspects are appreciated by companies operating in this market.

Flexible manufacturing enables us to adapt to the specific needs and requirements for quality, regulations, pharmacopoeia, traceability and documents (FCC, European regulations, etc.) of the industry in general and each individual customer in particular.

We carefully examine our customers' requirements so we can work with them in specifying and developing innovative new products.