

Contact Lens care

Our extensive experience in manufacturing and supplying optical accessories specific to this sector means we have in-depth understanding of the quality standards required by each customer and can ensure traceability and deliver a continuous and sustained standard of quality in a sector that is particularly sensitive to product quality, safety and stability.

We work with customers on requirements to find highly efficient solutions.